Kurtis Rodrigue

CS 202

Esra Erdin

November 11, 2016

Project 6 was a failed attempt for me. I am getting seg faults for searching and sorting. I have spent hours trying to figure out why this is happening, and I have absolutely no idea. Other than this, I feel like I did mostly everything correctly, and I feel like I know more about classes than I did before I started the project.

In main, all I did was a simple menu to test out each feature of the class. I am able to print, read, and everything besides sorting and searching.

I know the seg faults are due to some kind of pointer issue, I just can not figure out where it is, or what is causing it. This is something I definitely need to figure out so that I can learn for next time.